

Protect Minnesota is proud to sponsor Safety Off, a compilation of scenes and monologues meant to share various perspectives on gun violence in America. With school shootings at the forefront of this movement, this theatrical discussion will rekindle the conversation and remind everyone to raise their voices in the November midterm elections. After each performance there will be a talkback discussion with the audience, artists, elected leaders, and members of nonprofit organizations already fighting for gun violence prevention. Protect Minnesota will also have a table there to register voters.
